"I have had the pleasure of working with Isobel on many projects over many years including website development, photography, technical writing, and social media marketing. She is a gifted artist and creative talent who can also expertly leverage technology to help solve problems which is a very unique skill set. Isobel is also an engaging person, who takes pride in her work, and is an absolute pleasure to work with. I highly recommend Isobel, to help any company in any of her areas of expertise."

- Steve Saunders, former Director at Provenance Systems Inc.
